RADIATION DUMP

A K-TEK™ product for ATARI® computer systems

Tons of powerful nuclear waste have accumulated in the land. Nowhere can it be stored safely, and mankind is threatened. As chief of waste disposal, it's your responsibility to get rid of it...safely! It's an extremely dangerous occupation! It's time to start! A special submarine is loaded with huge barrels of the terrible stuff and so you put out to sea. The dumpsite is new and swarming with wonderful sealife. You must cautiously drop the barrels, and expertly direct them to the very bottom...without harming or exposing any of the fish swimming by, or bumping the drifting magnetic bomb.

TO LOAD:

Insert diskette into drive and close door. Activate hardware. Program will load automatically.

PLAYING:

Release barrels of waste safely to the bottom of the sea without endangering sealife. Collide with any moving object and a barrel will explode. Then, the sealife will decrease by random count and 5 seconds will be deducted from the time. The game ends when all 25 barrels are released, or when the clock runs out.

TO SCORE

The player who safely releases all his barrels in the least time will score the most points. Note: When a barrel explodes, 5 seconds are deducted from the clock...so, 500 points will be deducted from the final score, because every second left on the clock is worth 100 points.

MORE SPECIAL NOTES:

When a game starts there are 5,000 units of sealife and 25 barrels. Move the joystick to guide your ship right or left. Pressing the trigger releases a barrel. Guide the barrel by moving the joystick right or left. (Beware of the underwater bomb that is magnetically attracted to the barrels)!

TO RESUME PLAY:

Press the trigger and have another go at it!

REQUIRES: Atari® 400/800™ Computer, 48K.Disk Drive, Basic Cartridge & Joystick.
